DR. HENLEY'S

A FABULOUS DISCOVERY. Worth Millions to the Human Family-Celery as a Cure. The habitual daily use of this vegetable is much more beneficial to man than most people imagine. The writer, who is familiar with its rittues, is acquainted with many men and women who from various causes have become so much affected by nervousness that when they stretched out their hands they shook like aspen leaves, but by a moderate use of celery they became as strong in nerve as other people. We have known others to be cured of they became as strong in herve as other people. We have known others to be cured of palpitation of the heart. To this we may add that we received of Dr. Henley, of Portland, Oregon, a bottle of "Celery, Beef and Iron." By close analysis we state the preparation called Celery, Beef and Iron is what it is represented to be, absolutely pure, and every one engaged in labor weakening to the nerves should use "Celery, Beef and Iron." We find also according to the formula received, each bottle is composed of Liebig's extract of beef, extract of celery, and pyrophosphate of iron with condensed wine. These combined we pronounce the best known remedy for any disorder of the nerves or neuralgia. The most delicate nerves, even of birds, we give celery, how much better will it subserve the wants of the human family?—Prf. B. H. Openheigen in Journal of Chemistry.

clad rule of the nature provided in this section would not only be a cause of inconvenience to the public, but the source of much litigation, No rule should be established that would permit ne, with a large tonnage to be moved, to engage the facilities of a carrier for my exclusive bene-fit, for even a short period. There are shippers who can and often have tonnage amounting to thousands of tons, that sometimes can be thrown a time, long or short, to the exclusion of others. The interests of the carrier are such as to prompt it to prevent this as much as possible. Under the law, as proposed, the carrier would have no option in the matter. I think the bill would be improved by eliminating the provision altoexpediency of foroiding an assoums, rebates, special contracts, special rates, or other devices for charging more or less than the published rates. It seems to me that a prohibition of unjust discriminations, preferences or favors in the interest of certain persons or places, would be "In the matter of special contracts, as I have said before, my firm has not been under con-tract with any of the railroad companies in the State. I know that the contract plan enforced on through business has been the subject of a great deal of criticism. It has not been handled by the railroad company as, perhaps, I would have handled it. At the same time, perhaps, every one of my fellow-merchants would suggest a plan, as different from mine, as mine would be from that of the railroad companies.

factor in trade as the transportation interest has become. All the rates, privileges and facilities offered by a carrier ought to be open to all persons upon the same terms, but it strikes me that the carrier is precisely in my position. It has transportation to sell, while I sell paints and oils. A customer who buys an invoice running up into the thousands will certainly receive a discount from me, and from all my competitors, from the rates for which I would sell to the purchaser of an invoice of $100.

dere might be cases where a special contract which shall be in erest of an individual, or a community, most some other individual, or some other mity, but which shall be 'special' in a few more $47,500 appropriations are used up in of the sense that it shall be different from the usual and ordinary terms of carriage by railroads—could be necessary in order to enable the carrier of properly serve the public. vite J. B. Wheelers of Oakland, to appear before the committee and give his views on the bill, he having expressed a desire so to do. Mr. Wheeler presented himself-and squared off for an oration, but before he could proceed a discussion arose as to the necessity or propriety of hearing other witnesses, and of prolonging the inquiry to another day. Some member moved that Bank Commissioner W. F. White be invited to give his views. Senators McClure and Spencer of Napa opposed the taking of any more testimony, but the motion to invite Mr. White having carried, Mr. McClure then moved that invitations also be extended to A. P. Williams, Adam Grant, William T. Coleman, Herman Sadler, Levi Strauss, C. N. Felton, D. G. Schofield, L. Wurtheimer, A. A. Watkins, H. L. Dodge, Albert Gallatin, L. L. Baker, N. P. Cole, George C. Perkins.

Mr. Sullivan moved to add Charles Crocker and A. N. Towne. Mr. McClure said he would accept these and include A. P. Vining, of the Union Pacific Railroad.

A motion was made to lay on the table.

"I deem it hardly necessary to dilate on the facts as I have shown them, but I would ask Can the great State of California ignore, its con-

in this: That, having provided such legislation Facine Rathroad.

Mr. McClure raised the point of order that a motion could not be laid on the table. The point of order was sustained.

Mr. Cross said he did not desire to have any THE ANNUAL PICNIC OF THE ANCIENT additional witnesses called, except W. F. White Mr. McClure did not think his own position was misunderstood. He wanted to close the in estigation on the preceding day; and he be eved that his motion to have all the gentlemen deliberation on the Barry bill. He therefore vithdrew the motio The name of Mr. White was then withdrawn.
Mr. Spencer moved that the investigation be then closed, except as to the witness present,

Mr. Cross moved to amend so as to allow the nearing of the testimony of Messrs. Naglee, stubbs and Barry, already invited. Carried.

After some discussion, the committee decided not to hear any testimony after to-day.

Mr. Wheeler was then requested to proceed and give his views on the Barry bill. He said to make the protections of the mode no pretensions to crystory, but would be made no pretensions to oratory, but would be creant to his duty not to say something on the abject that had brought him here. There is reat issue at stake between the Government ur forefathers and another power that seeks upplant it. Once we had a purely democra uppaint it. Knocked from the Bridge. Last evening, after the express train for the East, which left the city at 7:35, had crossed the American river bridge, the bridge watchman inspected the structure to see that everything was all right. As he neared the southern end he heard groans from the water below, and a voice exclaiming, "Oh, my arm's broke!" It did not take long to from the trestlework by the train and was in danger of drowning. The only way to effect the rescue was by swimming out with a rope, and this Mr. Moore volunteered to It was a courageous act to venture out in the darkness, in the ice-cold water among the willows through which a strong current was setting, taking a lengthy rope along, but he performed it like a hero, and presently his comrades were gratified to hear that he had made the trip safely and found the obother, and then the party ashore pulled had sprouted. the city, and the rescued individual, who gave the name of Perry Smiley, and "The Female Detective," is the best that lasted nearly two hours, that he could programme to-night. vived him somewhat. In our establishment we employ a large and efficient force of Milliners, and aim to display as much skill upon the medium and low-priced work as upon the expensive kinds.

CALIFORNIA. Raging Waters.

IONE (Amador county), April 16th.—The heaviest storm of the season prevailed here last night at 6 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock the waters of Sutter creek were flowing into the town, but soon receded, doing but little damage. Several farms along the creek were badly flooded, leaving sand on grain and alfalfa fields.

storm of the season visited this section yester-day, being general throughout the county. It pelted down for half an hour in this city, mak-ing veritable canals of the streets. The creeks rose rapidly, and last night communication with other towns was cut off to travel. Several narrow escapes from drowning occurred, and the country south of Red Bluff was flooded in many districts. The Sacramento river at this place rose to 21 feet, and merchants and others in Tehama moved their goods and stores to elevated places, expecting the town to be flooded. At present the river is rapidly falling.

MARYSVILLE, April 16th.—Last evening Marysville Parlor gave a banquet to the Grand Parlor and visiting members. The Pioneers attended in a body, and there were 300 persons seated at the table. Several toasts were responded to and the festivities lasted to a late hour. A uniform was prescribed for such of the subordinate Parlors as desired to use the same. Many important amendments were made to the Constitution this morning. The next session will probably be held at San Jose. Every Parlor represented is to send a large delegation to Sacramento on the occasion of the next celebration of Admission Day. The committee appointed to prepare resolutions upon the death of George Young, a member of the last Grand Parlor, made a report and the same was adopted.

SANTA CRUZ, April 16th.—A mass meeting wanted in this city last night to take action concerning the measures before the Legislature nov cerning the measures before the Legislature now in session at Sacramento. The following resolutions, signed by four of a committee of five, were adopted by almost an unanimous vote: Resolved, That the railroad corporation should be compelled to pay their just proportion of taxes; that fares and freights of the railroads should be reduced so as to yield a fair return for the capital invested, and no more: that the discrimination in fares and freights should be abated, and that railroads and all other corporations should be regulated and controlled by wholesome and stringent laws.

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the integrity and ability of our representatives, Senator Knight and Assemblyman Heath, and believe that they will stand by the people's interest, and conscientiously and fearlessly support every legislative measure consistent with the foregoing principles, which may be introduced to aid in earrying out said my beinging. he foregoing principles, which may be intro-uced to aid in carrying out said principles. Duncan McPherson, being called upon while Puncan McPherson, being called upon while the committee were working on the resolutions, said that it was hard to discuss a question not before the meeting, but he presumed the object of the meeting was to strengthen the Senator and Assemblyman from this district on the railroad question now before the Legislature; that the people of this community were not suffering from railroad charges; that the in matter of railroad fares and freights they were peculiarly blessed; that Senator Knight had not yet taken a position on the railroad questions; that he has
